DECEASED

SUMMARY

Mid-grade analyst, Myanmar/Northeast desk. Strong open record on hawala flow and inception-stage network reconstruction. Filed an SR-series report on a foreign network in early 2008; report logged 'not actioned' at supervisory level. Subject killed later that year. Death logged as hostile action consistent with the corridor she worked. File carried closed.

SERVICE HISTORY

Lateral civil-side intake into the Analysis Wing. Quiet performer, no field tasking, no agent-running. Reputation among supervisors for chasing a thread past the point of utility. Repeatedly requested follow-up authority on the Bangkok–Moreh settlement pattern; requests declined as out of desk scope.

TERMINAL EVENT

Subject moved off-station against standing guidance; contact went intermittent. Body recovered; injuries and staging read to investigators as enemy action against an exposed officer. No internal review opened. Effects inventoried and returned to family per routine; nothing of intelligence value catalogued at the time.

ASSESSMENT

On the open record, a capable analyst who overreached a desk brief and was caught outside her cover by a network she had correctly identified. Loyalty not in question. Judgement assessed as poor in the final months – persistence past institutional instruction. No further action contemplated for a deceased officer.

TRAINING

Analyst track, not operational. Trained in network reconstruction, financial-flow and hawala pattern analysis, link charting and source evaluation; basic tradecraft and dead-drop handling to wing standard. No combat, surveillance-evasion or agent-running certification. Self-taught on Golden Triangle logistics and Northeast crossing geography beyond her formal brief.

CAPABILITIES

Exceptional analytic instinct – repeatedly isolated the single thread an adversary most wanted left alone, at inception stage, from thin financial signal. Disciplined documentarian; built clean evidentiary chains. Operationally untrained and physically unremarkable, which is what left her exposed once she stepped off the desk. Her durable capability is what she concealed before death, not anything she could do alive.

OPERATIONAL RECORD – SELECTED

2007-Q4 – Flagged anomalous settlement cluster, Bangkok-Dubai-Moreh leg.
2008-02 – Reconstructed an inception-stage foreign network; raised SR-series report implicating a s
2008-03 – Report returned 'not actioned'; subject persisted off-channel.
2008-mid – Moved off-station against guidance; contact intermittent.
2008 – Terminal event. Body recovered, location withheld; logged hostile action. File closed.
FINAL DEAD-DROP – SITE AND CONTENT [REDACTED] [SEALED]

THREAT LEVEL - DORMANT / POSTHUMOUS

Subject deceased; residual exposure is the material she left behind, not the subject herself.

STANDING ORDERS

File closed; no active tasking. Any resurfacing of the subject's SR-series report, her returned effects, or claims touching the 2008 desk finding is to be flagged immediately and routed chief-eyes-only, not actioned at desk level. Do not reopen the terminal-event finding through normal review channels. Treat any third party tracing the subject's last movements as a collection priority.
